Central Coast Artists Shine On

The art scene of the Central Coast continues to evolve, and artists keep creating. It is what we do. We are lucky to have Art Center Morro Bay, Art Central, Cambria Center for the Arts, Clark Center, and Paso Robles Art Association/Studios on the Park as vibrant venues for exhibiting our work. Keep up the creativity, and support these art centers with your membership, participation and art offerings!

Joan Brown shows her western oils and watercolors for the first time at the SLOPOKE Art Show held at the Octagon Barn Event Center in San Luis Obispo. Joan's western themed work was originally created when she lived in Southern Oregon and loved going to the local horse shows and rodeos. There, she watched the devotion of the young girls to their horses. Captivated by the beauty, hard work, and passion of those teens and young women, she began to capture them in paint.

SLOPOKE opens on Halloween and continues Saturday and Sunday, November 1-2. There is a charge for admission. www.the-slopoke.com

~~~~~ NOTICE ~~~~~

Central Coast Artists Collective ceased accepting memberships in the four artist groups on its website as of September 1, 2025. It was decided by a vote of the CCAC Board to reduce Collective services on December 31, 2025.

The Collective was formed to provide services (bank accounts, memberships, exhibition assistance, website, newsletter, etc.) to artist groups to make up for those which the SLO Museum previously provided. Though the Collective was successful in its efforts, the need for those services has diminished.

Artist groups can continue to exist as separate entities, having meetings, exhibitions, etc. They can opt to chart their own courses under the umbrella of the Collective but with limited services, beginning in January 2026.

If you are a current member of an artist group (Photo Society, The Painters Group, Central Coast Sculptors, or Craftmakers), your membership is valid through December 31, 2025. You will receive notices from your group, the website will continue, and you will receive the monthly newsletter through December.

Your artist group will provide you with more information about how they plan to operate in the future.

Thank you for being part of the Central Coast Artists Collective!

Member Challenge: Looking Down Central Coast Photographic Society Meeting via Zoom November 13, 2025 @ 7 p.m. pst

As photographers, we spend time looking at horizons, skies, etc., perhaps we should take a look at what's around our feet. So, look down and around. What do you see that's interesting Looking Down or Around Your Feet?

If you would like to participate in this member challenge, please send me 3 photos no later than midnight on Monday, November 10, 2025. When sending me your images, please initiate a new email to photoralph@att.net and do not just respond to the email with the flyer. Images should be sRGB and no longer than 1800 pixels on the longest side. Please use the naming convention of John1, John2, etc.

Looking forward to seeing everyone's photos,
Ralph George

Capturing the Magic of Cowboy Country

A fine art Photography Exhibition in November & December 2025 at Spearhead Coffee – 619 12th St. in Paso Robles

In winter 2024, shades of ranch, horse and cowboy country came to life in the foothills of the majestic Bighorn Mountains with canyons and sweeping high desert vistas. Local working cowboys and cowgirls - riding their own horses - came together with our small group of enraptured photographers for a unique photo opportunity based around a horse ranch in wild, northern Wyoming. Riders wrangled horses, galloped in the snow of the red rocks, traversed the vast Bighorn basin. Horses gathered at the edge of a frosty stream to drink. It is hoped that this exhibition will give viewers a taste of living in the Wild West!

*Cheryl Strahl, an Atascadero resident, has participated in numerous photography exhibitions. Her photos have gained both local and national recognition and won several awards and acceptance into juried fine art shows in San Luis Obispo County as well as Oakland, San Francisco, San Diego and Solvang. <https://www.cherylstrahlphotography.com/>
